

PUBLIC DAILY LEDGER

SIXTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., MONDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1897.

ONE CENT.

Purely Business!

The contents of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "batteries" free any more than a merchant can take over his counter five gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

Our Electric Light Purchase!

Owing to delay in shipping the goods we were unable to offer them before today. They are now ready for you, and when we say that never before were we in position to offer you such values as we do in this sale, we simply tell you the truth.

Here are elegant Cheviot Men's Suits, splendidly trimmed and made, and honestly worth $8.50; in this sale $4.75. Beautiful Cassimere and Cheviot Suits in the latest styles, perfect tailor-made and trimmed; everybody else's price is from $12.50 to $15—in this sale ours go at $10.75.

A special line which we call particular attention to is a beautiful line of Genuine Gait Mixtures which we have sold at $15. In our recent purchase we closed out 114 Suits, and in this sale they will go at $10.75.

There are many other lots in this sale, but lack of space forbids enumerating all. Look in our windows—they are there with the CASH price plainly marked on them.

In the excitement of this Clothing sale don't overlook the fact that we carry the best line of MEN'S SHOES that were ever offered in Mayville. A glance at our show-window tells the story briefly.

The above forecasts are made for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at 10 o'clock tomorrow evening.

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a visit, please drop us a note to that effect.

Mr. Sam T. Hickman returned Saturday evening from Louisville.

Ex-Senator Ladd of Spencer, Mass., was in the city Saturday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Scott.

Colonel and Mrs. E. A. Robinson returned Saturday evening from a visit of two weeks to friends and relatives at St. Louis and Wichita.

Mr. E. R. Harrison passed through the city Saturday en route to his home at Flemingsburg. He is from Fergus, N. D., 1,400 miles from his home. He is the son of W. H. Harrison, Chairman of the Republican Committee of Fleming county, and came home to vote.

All matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day.

If you want your share of the fall and early winter trade, an advertisement in The Ledger will be your best solicitor. Try it and see.

Mr. A. W. Swice, aged 31, and Miss Josie Wagner, aged 16, were married in the city Saturday, the bride's father signing the marriage bond.

A prospector who went to Alaska reports six suicides, three hangings, eleven killings and a number of deaths from exposure along the White Pass.

The busy, busy, busy Bum.
With eyes and nose so red—
They tell in tones of eloquence
Of candidates he's "bied."

Murphy the Jeweler carries the largest stock of Diamonds and Gold Watches to be found in the city. His prices are the lowest. If you want first-class goods call on him.

Hon. W. W. Dickerson, National Democrat, will speak at the Courthouse at 7:30 tomorrow evening. Mr. Dickerson is an ex-member of Congress from this state, and one of Kentucky's most gifted orators.

At the last meeting of the Rehearsal State Assembly Mrs. Lute Martin of this city was awarded a Past President's collar, which was formally presented to her last Friday night by Mrs. Margaret Schwartz and Mrs. Lizzie McCasahan on behalf of the State Assembly.

Messrs. Charles B. Pearce, Jr., and John Duley, Assignees of Israel Greenstein, will sell at public auction Thursday afternoon, November 4th, the stock of goods of Mr. Greenstein. The clothing, merchandise and fixtures will be offered and sold as a whole. For particulars see advertisement in another place.

Mr. Fred Ann of the Slab Ward lost a cow last week by being struck by a C. and O. train.

Mr. Thomas J. Hall of this city went to Cincinnati last week to accept a position in Dow's Drugstore at the Northeast corner of Seventh and Race streets.

Hos. E. Flaenger, one of the wealthiest farmers in Bowler county, O., last week subscribed for $500 stock in the Black Diamond, and stands ready to take another $500 worth if necessary.

Colonel Paik Miller, the celebrated impersonator who will appear at the Courthouse this evening in company with two other bright stars, was yesterday the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Madison, and was taken on a drive through the beautiful environs of our city.

Mr. Wat Whaley one day last week found a valuable gold bracelet. Its loss had been advertised in The Ledger. Mr. Whaley brought it to this office and subsequently returned it to the owner, hesitating to accept the reward that had been offered for its recovery. In these desperate days such an act is worthy of remark.

A crayon portrait by the Waters Party of Artists of the late Mr. Jacob Marsh is now on exhibition in the show window of Simon Nelson.

The picture was made from a very small gem taken about twenty years ago, yet it is one of the most perfect pieces of work ever executed by the Waters Party. It has already been viewed by many of those who knew Mr. Marsh and it is the unanimous verdict that a better likeness could not have been made.

DEED OF A DEVIL.

Some Dayton Miscreant Fires a Stone Through a Car Window.

Saturday evening as the Mayville Accommodation was pulling into Dayton some fiend fired a stone through a window of the ladies' car.

Another lady, who got off at Dayton, was struck in the head by the stone, receiving a severe contusion of the scalp.

No clue to the gentleman who perpetrated the innocent joke.

EXPENSIVE ECONOMY.

Charlie Cassidy Saved a Nickel and Lost His Hat.

Charles Cassidy, giving his home as Mayville, was assaulted by footpads at the C. and O. Depot, Dayton, Ky., a few nights ago, robbed of $4 and a hat and badly beaten.

Cassidy followed a plan that is quite popular among Cincinnati visitors from points along the C. and O.

The fare to Dayton is about 30 cents less than it is to Cincinnati.

Cassidy was saving the quarter, when he was assaulted and lost his hat and $4. He took the next train for home—wiser but not so wealthy.

BREAKERS AHEAD.

Exceptions Filed in the Matter of Israel Greenstein's Assignment.

D. Hechinger & Co., for themselves and other creditors to the extent of $5,500, have filed exceptions to exemptions allowed Israel Greenstein under his recent deed of assignment.

They claim that a full list of furniture, etc., was not shown, and that the assignment was below the value of that which was shown.

They also except to the allowance of $940, and claim that there is a failure to account for more than that amount of cash, notes, goods and accounts.

KICKERS' CORNER

If any one at any time for any reason has any cause to "kick" in any way at anything of any kind, here's the place to say his say. The door is open—kick right in and help yourself, free gratis and for nothing—but don't make your "kicks" too long—it's the short, quick pious that count—and cut.

The name of the kicker must accompany the kick, or it'll be kicked into the waste-basket.

SOME QUESTIONS.

Editor Ledger: Has a taxpayer any right to request of the Chairman of the Internal Improvement Committee, Mr. G. W. Crowell, the privilege of seeing the original reports of that Committee as submitted to the Council?

Are these reports the property of Mr. G. W. Crowell, Chairman of that Committee, or are they public matter subject to the supervision of the taxpayers?

If so, should they not be filed with the City Clerk as public records?

If Mr. Crowell refuses to deliver these papers to the City Clerk, is it not patent that there is something in them which he does not want to be investigated?

If you cannot answer these questions maybe Mr. G. W. Crowell can; but will he?

I have been asking for these reports to be on file for more than three months. Will they come?

Signed,
CAPTAIN JONATHAN HAMILTON.

Dr. W. E. Gault will assist Dr. Samuel until the 1st of November, after which time he will locate in Portsmouth.

BOLD BURGLARY.

A Bad Man Breaks Into Joseph H. Dodson's Store and Steals Rope.

During Saturday night the storehouse of Joseph H. Dodson, lying at the foot of Wall street, was broken into by the window route and blocks, tackle, lines, etc., stolen to the amount of $104.50.

It was not long until the Hon. "Arter Dark" Sun was arrested for the innocent invasion, and it is highly probable he will be sent as one of Mason county's representatives to Frankfort.

Following the arrest of Sun, he turned, his tongue loose and charged that two other well known citizens were with him at the time of the burglary; but the reputation of the Hon. "Arter Dark" is such that the police will be slow to make any further arrests on his unsupported statement.

LOST HIS HAND.

Mr. Marion Walker Meets with a Dreadful Accident This Morning.

Mr. S. F. M. Walker, the well known carpenter, met with a painful accident at W. B. Mathews & Co.'s Sawmills just before 8 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Mathews had directed him to go into the mill and have the regular attendants of the saws get out some material for him, but Mr. Walker told the attendants to stand aside that he would do the work himself.

He had shoved a piece of board almost entirely past the saw, but his hand coming too close to the instrument he feared it might strike him, so he did the fatal thing which has cost so many hands and fingers—he stepped to the opposite side of the bench and grasped both pieces of the board which had passed the saw, thus clamping them upon it and like a flash hurling his right hand against the cruel teeth.

The unfortunate man was at once removed to his shop near by and soon after taken to his residence at Commerce street and Forest avenue where Drs. Harover, Pangburn and Browning dressed his injuries.

Mr. Walker is about 78 years of age and the shock was so severe that the result cannot be anticipated.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly. Indeed, it acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.

LEVEL HEADED DAVE.

The Cincinnati Commercial Tribune of Saturday had this about one of our best known citizens:

"J. D. Dye of Mayville, Ky., was in the city for a brief sojourn yesterday, accompanied by E. Lambden, a retired merchant of the same city. Mr. Dye is a leading Republican in his section, and is the first Republican Assessor Mason county has had for years. He is also Superintendent of the Water-works."

"Speaking of politics, Mr. Dye said it is somewhat difficult to foretell the results of this fall's contest in his section, but the Republican organization in Kentucky is very well maintained and substantial gains in party strength are expected to come from this fall's contest."

HOME RULE.

An Amendment Allowing Cities to Regulate Their Own Taxes.

Every person should vote "Yes" on the following proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Its adoption will give cities the right to regulate their own taxing affairs, and enable them to provide money for internal improvements.

The proposed amendment is as follows, and The Ledger shows how it will appear on the ballot, and where the voter ought to put his X mark:

The General Assembly, by general law, provides for taxation by municipalities of property other than lands and improvements thereon, based on income, licenses or franchises, which may be either in addition to or in lieu of the tax on real estate.

Our Store

One reason is, it is getting more difficult each year to make exclusive dress stuffs handsome than popular priced goods. The inevitable result—well dressed women everywhere. Our dress goods counters have never been so magnificent—the buying never so voluntary.

PLAIDS! Cric-crow prettiness. Gay? Yes, some of them. But there are quiet patterns too. Blue and green are the color chords of the newest plaids. Some have silk stripes, many are pretty as can be without silk. 37-inch at 35c, the finest silk at $1. There are scores between.

DRAP D'ETE! Plain beauty, an old-fashioned stuff that sweetens with age. The new colorings keep it in continual freshness and it's a prime favorite this fall. It wears as few stains can. 50c. to $1.80.

ENGLISH CHEVLOTS! A dozen styles, crisp as a new Government note, correct styles, same texture sold last year at 75c. This season only 50c.

COVERTIS! A snug weave which shows the twill, firm, sturdy and full of style, dual-tint, 75c. Armure Fancies—a tasteful color foundation on which is built curiously intricate textile architecture of glistening black in puzzle patterns. 30c. American Cheviot in new effects. It imitates expensive imported stuffs well. Charming colors playing overgrounds stylishly rough. 35c.

KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.
Adopted at Louisville, Aug. 10th, 1897.

First—That we reaffirm the principles of the Republican party as set forth in the platform adopted by it in 1860.
Second—That we endorse the Republican National and State Administrations, and especially commend the action of our present state officials in their efforts to suppress mob violence and to preserve the financial credit of the state.
Third—We commend the action of the representatives of the Republican party in the passage of a Tariff Bill which will raise revenue sufficient to support the Government, prevent the issue of interest-bearing bonds, protect American labor and maintain the National credit.
Fourth—We are opposed to a system of Civil Service that builds up an official class with practically a life tenure in almost all branches of the public service, and we demand that the Civil Service Law be modified so as to limit the term of service to four years, with the privilege of reappointment or promotion, subject to such restrictions as will secure competent officials and give to every citizen of the country its proper proportion of them.
Fifth—We hereby signify our opposition to the struggling people of Cuba in their efforts to secure liberty and independence.
Sixth—That we recommend to the people the adoption of the Constitutional amendment submitted by the last Legislature, allowing all cities and towns the privilege of regulating under legislative supervision the method of levying the taxes they impose on themselves for city and town expenses.
Seventh—We favor the passage of a law that will protect the laborers of Kentucky from the competition of convict labor, and if necessary to accomplish said result, an amendment to the Constitution permitting such legislation.

"The best way to get rid of a bad law is to enforce it."—General Grant.
Therefore THE LEDGER favors the rigid enforcement of the Civil Service Law.

There will, it is announced, be six celestial eclipses in 1898. But there will be other eclipses, too.

Under President CLEVELAND the per capita circulation in the country fell to $21.10, but it has increased under President McKinley to $22.80.

The single-line advocates throughout the country are no less delighted than the apparent popularity of Henry GONZALES' candidacy in New York City. All the "lads" of that city are looking to his standard.

The increase in the postal receipts of the country for this September over those of September of last year simply augments the evidence piling up on all hands to show a condition of increased business.

It is not noticed that Mr. BRYAN telegraphed anybody, following the Indianapolis election, as to his belief in a great change in the direction of Free-Silver. Is Mr. BRYAN getting disheartened?

Mr. BRYAN was heard to say some months ago that he would be glad if the McKinley Administration could bring prosperity to the country. That was very patriotic, but has anybody heard his expressions of satisfaction since it has come?

CONSERVATIVE estimates state $100,000,000 as the figure which will probably be reached by the gold reserve of the Treasury Department before the end of the crop season. This state of affairs presents something of a contrast to the last Administration.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY's action in appointing a special Reciprocity Commissioner to arrange deals in this line with foreign countries with dispatch and without necessitating the ponderous delays of the State Department is generally commended as wise and needful.

The Treasury Department is responsible for the statement that there is now in the world $1,335,000,000 in silver money, and that of that amount 85 per cent. is full legal tender. This looks as though silver had not been discriminated against to any great extent.

As a matter of fact, the voting in the Indianapolis election does not give any indication as to the relative strength of the two great parties in that city, or anywhere else, on National issues, for the reason that National issues did not at all figure in the contest.

The American people must be proud of the record the defeated candidate of the Popocratic party of last year is achieving in making of himself a drawing-card for county fairs through the country. Mr. BRYAN "lectured" at the Wichita, Kansas, County Fair the other day, under an agreement to receive one-half of the gate receipts. This was paid him, amounting to $2,400, but it was then discovered that he had been swindled by the management, which had made extra charge for grandstand tickets and for selling beer, the proceeds of which were not divided with Mr. BRYAN.

Cap. Hooper of the United States Behring Sea patrol says the reports concerning the scarcity of food in the Kodiak region are not exaggerated.

"BUCK" COULDN'T FEAZE HER!
Miss Murphy Called at the Postoffice and Evidently Wanted a Letter.

A freckle-faced girl landed at the General Delivery of the Postoffice yesterday and began on Buck Goodman—
"Anything for the Murphys?"
"No, there is not."
"Anything for Jane Murphy?"
"Nothing."
"Anything for Ann Murphy?"
"No."
"Anything for Tom Murphy?"
"No."
"Anything for Bob Murphy?"
"No, not a bit."
"Anything for Terry Murphy?"
"No, nor for Pat Murphy, nor Dennis Murphy, nor for any Murphy—dead, living, unborn, native or foreign, civilized or uncivilized, savage or barbarous, male or female, black or white, franchised or disfranchised, naturalized or otherwise. No, there is positively nothing for any of the Murphys, either individual or jointly, severally, now and forever, one and inseparable."

The girl looked at Buck in astonishment, and said:
"Please to look if there is anything for Clarence Murphy!"
The last seen of Mr. Goodman he was hunting for an axe.

SWEEP STREETS AS THEY PASS.
See Streetcars That Are Suggested For Use In Large Cities.

New York Journal.
A streetcar has now been invented that sweeps the street as it goes along. It can be attached to trolley or cable cars, and it is proposed that every car on a line be equipped with this attachment and that the sweeping be kept up continuously. This remarkable invention is the discovery of Hosea W. Libbey of Boston, who has secured patents on the mechanism. As the car filled with this invention moves along the street two revolving brushes on the forward end sweep up the dirt, and a sprinkler at the stern scatters a thin layer of water to lay the dust. In this way it is claimed that the entire length of a car line can be kept constantly swept and watered. The benefits of this apparatus, it is claimed, will be especially felt in summer, when residents of such streets the car lines run on will be saved the expense of sweeping and sprinkling the street, while the continuous dampness scattered by the cars will keep the street cool and clean on the hottest and dustiest days.

In winter, however, its advantages will be no less apparent. The sprinkler may be dispensed with, but the revolving brushes under the front ends of the car will keep the track free from snow. The car will run so frequently that no snowstorm, however heavy, can stop the traffic, as frequently happens at the present time, while residents of the street will be spared the thrill of terror which the present mammoth street sweepers excite in the average brain.

Another advantage which the enthusiastic inventor of this machine claims for his discovery is that dogs and other domestic animals which get in the way of the cable car will, as they are now, be ground to powder beneath the wheels of the modern juggernaut. Instead, these pets will be turned round and round several times as a gentle warning not to dole again, and then the automatic sweeper will throw the startled animals to one side of the track, where they will fall in an astonished heap in the neat pile of dirt which the sweeper leaves behind it.

After a few such experiences it is claimed that all the dogs, cats and fowls along the line of the railroad using this automatic sweeper will learn not to get in the way of the car and will respectfully give it the right of way, instead of, as now, laying down their lives in a vain effort to stop it. This will be a comfort to the residents of the neighborhood, while the spectacle of cats and dogs being made the playthings of this machine will afford amusement to the children of the residents.

If the dustless light in the summer along the track of the streetcar line, then the end of the car carrying the rotating sprinkler will be turned to the front. The car will then sprinkle the dust here sweeping it up.

The dust and dirt swept out of the way by this machine is to be laid in a neat line along the side of the tracks. Here it will be an easy matter for the street cleaners to shovel it into carts. The machine, it is said, will effect a saving not only to the company using it, but to the local authorities as well.

POOLROOM TROUBLE.
A Louisville Speculator in Sex for Money Has Lost.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 25.—J. W. Townsend, a well-known young man, claims that he lost $3,000 at the local poolrooms. He demanded his money and was offered, he says, $100 as a compromise. This, he claims, he refused. Townsend then employed Attorney Darby and Wilson and swore out warrants, charging gambling against the owners and employees of every poolroom in the city. The warrants were served Sunday. Townsend says that the men are held over in the police court Monday and the police allow the poolrooms to continue in operation. He will swear out warrants for the board of safety and the policemen, charging them with misfeasance in office.

Howard Mystery Again.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 25.—Another chapter was opened in the Howard mystery Sunday. Benjamin H. Logan, a farmer, called on Coroner Hood and stated that he believed that the body found in the river and identified as that of Howard was that of his son, James Rankin, who disappeared from home September 1. Rankin says that his son and a companion had been seen in his possession, and has not been heard from since.

Three Prisoners Escaped.

NICHOLASVILLE, Ky., Oct. 25.—Bob Custer, Anthony Teitel, white, and William Smith, colored, three desperate prisoners in jail for housebreaking, escaped between two and three o'clock Sunday afternoon. The seven other prisoners refused to leave, though they could have gone just as easily. John Stevenson, under five years' sentence to the penitentiary, was one who refused to leave.

Dead in the High Road.

LANSING, Ky., Oct. 25.—While returning from church near Nina Saturday night, Logan and his wife, Mrs. Weeden, engaged in a quarrel about the election and opened fire with pistols. Weeden's jawbone is fractured and is in the neck. It is reported that Logan is also wounded. No arrests have been made.

Married in an Omnibus.

PHINCOT, Ky., Oct. 25.—Sunday afternoon Miss May Kinsolving and F. A. Doren, prominent young people, were driven to their wedding in the bus of the New Princeton hotel, and standing in the bus at the depot, were made man and wife. Elder W. S. Payne officiating. They then left over the Ohio Valley for Merion.

ANNUAL REPORT

Strength of the Navy October 1 Was 141 Vessels, All Told.

Work on New Vessels Stopped on Account of Lack of Funds—Urgent Need of Improvements in Navy Plans—Better Organization of the Navy—The Secretary of the Navy, Philip Hitchcock, chief constructor of the navy, says that the strength of the navy on October 1 was 141 vessels all told, including the ships of both old and new navies. It is stated that during the last few months of the last fiscal year a considerable amount of work upon vessels that had been authorized by congress had to be suspended owing to lack of funds. This caused a heavy drain upon the new appropriations at the beginning of the present fiscal year, and makes the exhaustion of those appropriations toward the end of next July almost an assured fact. Chief Hitchcock says this is a discouraging state of affairs, as exhaustion means a wholesale reduction of navy forces and the discharge of competent and trained men. He points to the advanced state of many of our vessels, and at least one vessel building at each important navy yard.

Probably the most desirable type of vessel for the purpose intended, particularly in view of the present state of the armor question, would be that of a small, fast, and powerful light draft and great endurance, with quarters for flag officers.

Attention is called to the urgent need of improving the navy yards, particularly in the interest of the economical execution of work, and estimates are made of the cost of such improvements. The plans at New York, Norfolk and Mare Island require additions, alterations and repairs to keep them up to a proper standard of efficiency. The yards at Boston, Portsmouth and League Island, though not actively engaged, should be kept in condition so that they would be able to work advantageously at short notice should occasion require. A plant at Puget sound is also said to be necessary.

During the last year the government accepted finally four ships, the Massachusetts, Oregon, Erie and Brooklyn, while eleven vessels have been accepted preliminarily and subject to final test, viz: Iowa, Nashville, Wilmington, Helena, Annapolis, Vicksburg, Newport, Wheeling, Marietta, Porter and Foote.

Particular attention is invited to the good result attending the construction of the Iowa. It is shown that this efficient vessel is able to carry 210 tons more than was calculated for her, and designed draft. The changes in her case cost only about two per cent. of the original cost. The cost of the gunboats the report says that their first cost was remarkably low, aggregating about two million dollars for the entire fleet. The cost of the first class armored cruiser, the cost of their maintenance, particularly with copper bottoming and other modern sail power should be a minimum.

The chief constructor, who is charged with the duty of docking ships, makes an argument for more and better docks, stating that the navy has been at a serious inconvenience during the past year, for lack of proper facilities for docking battleships. The bureau believes that the necessity for an additional dock is most urgent at Mare Island and on the Atlantic coast at Portsmouth and Boston, while a larger dock at Norfolk and League Island is also needed. It is urged that all the docks should be ready to receive a battleship.

Chief Hitchcock, under the head of Armor, renews his suggestion that the department should no longer make separate contracts for ships and their armor, but should permit the shipbuilder to supply the armor.

THE RIVER.

Accident on the New York Central and Hudson River Road.

Twenty-Eight Lives Lost and Half That Number Injured.

High Water Injured the Keating Train and a Special Train. Sixteen Men Drowned—Most of the Dead Lost Their Lives From Drowning.

New York, Oct. 25.—Buffalo and New York special No. 46, on the New York Central and Hudson River railroad, late tonight in this city at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, was thrown from the track into the Hudson river, one and a half miles below Garrison station. Twenty-eight lives were lost. The retaining wall along the river had been undermined by high water in the river and the track caved under the weight of the train. The train consisted of the engine, a combination baggage and express car, and two ordinary coaches and four sleepers. The engine and two forward cars were swept into the river by water. Engineer Foyle and Fireman Tompkins went down with the engine. All the sleeping car passengers escaped. A man named Williams, of Buffalo, died after being rescued from the river, his arm having been severed off. Up to 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning, 150 bodies had been recovered. Seven or eight of the dead were Chinamen who were in the smoking car. A. G. McKay, private secretary to General Manager Van Etten, is missing and is said to have been on the engine. A number of wounded have been taken to hospitals in Poughkeepsie and Peekskill.

Following is the list of bodies recovered from the wreck up to 3:30 p. m.:

Five unidentified Chinamen, one bearing papers of John Williams, and one bearing letter addressed to Hop Sing, 17 Springfield avenue, Newark.

E. A. Green, about 25 years old, supposed to be employed by W. A. Olin, architect, 175 Dearborn street, Chicago.

All of these died from drowning. Green's body was the first one taken out of the car by the diver, who is still searching for more bodies.

A. G. McKay, private secretary to General Superintendent Van Etten, is believed to have been riding on the engine and killed.

Conductor Parish and 18 others were uninjured and have been sent to New York. Five other survivors of the wreck were taken to the Peckskill hospital at Peekskill. Two of these are Americans and three are Chinamen.

The former are John E. Ryan, 2000 Barrow street, Jersey City, badly lacerated arm, shoulder and knee; Clarence Morgan, of Aurora, N. Y., shoulder broken.

Mr. Morgan escaped from a car after it had fallen into the water, through a hole in the end.

W. S. Langford, of Bayonne, N. J., was in one of the last coaches, which remained on the track. He swam out to the sunken car and found it and succeeded in chopping through to it and rescuing four people.

The wreck occurred six miles above Peekskill. A retaining wall which supported the track slid under the weight of the rapidly moving train. Of late the Hudson river has been very high and to this was due the undermining of the wall.

The railroad crossed six miles above Peekskill. A retaining wall which supported the track slid under the weight of the rapidly moving train. Of late the Hudson river has been very high and to this was due the undermining of the wall.

Herman Acker, of Peekskill, the baggage master of the train, who was in the baggage car, with John Shaw, an express agent, had private papers in a second compartment of the car were several Chinamen. Acker felt a heavy jar and found himself in the water. The water rose to within a foot of the roof. The car had whirled and whirled around, and the baggage compartment which contained the Chinamen stuck up slightly, the end containing the Chinamen being completely submerged. Shaw and Acker kept themselves afloat, the latter making his way to the tool box.

He got out on the roof through a panel, and with Shaw climbed to the roof of the car. Three of the Chinamen also made their escape through the same opening. Acker's arm was badly cut and his body covered with bruises. He was sent to his home in Peekskill. Shaw was not hurt.

The first man, unknown, who was taken out of the wreck by the rescuers, was breathing when found, but badly crushed. He died soon afterwards, his body being sent to Peekskill also.

The sleeping car conductor says he is able to account for all his passengers except five, and he is not certain where these are lost.

W. H. G. Myers, of Passaic, N. J., was lost in the wreck. The body has not yet been recovered.

The wrecked train was known as the Special Express. It left New York at 9 o'clock Saturday night and was due in New York at 7 o'clock Sunday morning. The train was hauled by engine 2000 and consisted of one American Express car, one composite baggage and smoking car, one day coach and six sleepers. Poughkeepsie and Peekskill were the stopping place of the train before the disaster at 8:10 a. m.

At this time there was in the smoker, in addition to the Chinamen, Herman Acker, of Peekskill, who was in his compartment, eight Chinamen sent from the Canadian Pacific to New York, and a middle-aged man, supposed to be Thomas Kelly, of 2860 Wisconsin avenue, St. Louis. All of these escaping baggage men were perished. The day coach contained 18 passengers, many of whom were women and children.

How many of these escaped is not known, but at least 19 were drowned or killed in this car. Behind the coach were the six sleepers, with about 60 passengers.

QUEEN REGENT

Wishes to Obtain the American Government's Sympathy,

And Particularly to Conciliate the Whites in the Cuban Insurrection.

Military Operations of the Four Western Provinces, and Active Operations in the Two Eastern Provinces Essential to a Complete Pacification of Cuba.

New York, Oct. 25.—A special to the World from Madrid, says: A high diplomatic personage, who has special means of accurately judging Spain's motives, claims that the queen regent and Sagasta government are sincerely both in their wish to obtain the sympathy of the American government.

The queen regent, who is the majority of the Cuban—especially the whites, whom the new policy aims to detach from the insurrection.

"Many obstacles may retard the realization of the liberal programme," this high diplomat continued.

"Secondly, the division in the anti-republican ranks is a very serious liability just when the government wants it to be the corner-stone of the new regime."

Thirdly, the ambiguous attitude of the so-called Spanish party, the constitutional party, makes mischief, as its professed support is conditional on the municipal and provincial councils and the Insular assembly.

Fourthly, the creation of a local assembly with a responsible executive is exceedingly unpopular in Spain and is combated even by influential liberals and newspapers like the Heraldo and the Imparcial.

"Fifthly, military men share the opinion of the civil party, and the Pando that rigid military discipline of the four western provinces of Cuba and very active operations in the two eastern provinces are indispensable to complete pacification, and can only produce results in a few months if the United States will not assist."

Sixthly, prolongation of the struggle with its terrific strain on the Spanish finances and embarrassments impending to the tune of $5,000,000 a month.

Seventhly, the Spanish government is already this winter will force Spain to pledge more sources of pecuniary revenue to raise money to pay on with the insurrection in Cuba.

TRUE BRAVERY

MORAL COURAGE THE HIGHEST.

Booker Washington is one of the most noted Negro Educators of the South, and by his eloquent orations has made a mark in the literary world.

TRUE BRAVERY.

Each one who is a member of this institution should look forward to the hour or day when he or she is going to receive a diploma, which will signify that the course of study here has been fulfilled. You should let nothing prevent your reaching that time and accomplishing that purpose.

Now, in order that you may stay here, and from year to year be promoted from one class to another, in order that you may grow, not only in mental and physical strength, but in moral life as well, there are some things that you have got to make up your minds to in the beginning—that there are a number of things about which you have got to be brave.

A great many people get the idea that bravery consists merely in facing some physical danger. Young men get the idea that bravery consists in standing up before somebody in a fight or quarrel.

It takes a braver person to walk away from a fight or quarrel than it does to engage in one.

In reading the history of our late War we are told that at one time when the Government was in great need of soldiers, some one suggested going into the slums of the Bowery in New York and other cities, and drafting soldiers. So they organized these toughs into regiments and sent them to the front. After the first engagement they found out that, so far from possessing true bravery, these new men were the biggest cowards in the War.

Now, there is a higher kind of courage than that represented by mere physical courage; and if you do not have that, you are not very likely to finish the course of study here. I want to be perfectly plain with you. There are a great many of you who have got to have a good deal of courage in the matter of dress. Now, during the year, you will be surrounded by persons in your rooms, at your tables and elsewhere, who are able to buy clothes that you are not able to buy. Their parents will be sending them clothing which is too costly for you to buy.

Now, you will have to make up your minds to be brave in regard to that matter. Wear just such clothing as you are able to wear; as you know your parents are able to send you, and do not disturb your mind about the boy or girl whose parents are able to furnish them better and costlier clothing than you can wear. Now, do not understand me to say that I do not want you to be neat and clean in your personal appearance. I want you to look just as neat and clean as possible, but it is not necessary to have fine, expensive clothes in order to be neat. Now, I confess that there is a tendency in all institutions to grow extravagant in dress. Each year students are inclined to wear more costly clothing than they did the preceding year.

Now, I don't like to see students who are continually straining themselves and putting on false appearances which take the earnings of their parents, who are, in many cases, really unable to indulge their children. If you are not able to wear fine clothes, say to your friend: "I am not able to wear such clothes, and rather than attempt to do so, I prefer to lead an honest life in school in order that I may get my hand trained and something in my mind, rather than on my back; so that when I go out into the world I may be able to wear good clothes." You have the next four or five years to spend in training your head and hands; now, which is the most honorable—to spend these years in getting something, even at a sacrifice, that will last you the remaining portion of your lives, or to fritter away these golden years in straining yourselves to dress finely?

I had a conversation last summer with President Carter of Williams College, at Williamstown, Mass., and he was telling me of a colored girl who was a student in the High School in that place. He said that at the commencement exercises of that school all of the white girls, many of whose parents were wealthy, not only went to school in plain clothing, but walked from their homes. But this colored girl did not walk; she rode in a fine carriage and was arrayed in a fine, expensive dress. This girl's father was the janitor of that school.

Now, we can't fool the world long with that kind of thing. Everyone knew that colored girl was not able to put on all that show. Such false appearances certainly do not help us. They disgust our friends. We want to be honest with ourselves and friends.

Now, you go on leading honest, careful, straightforward lives, being just what you are, no more, no less, and you will find that you are going through school.

Now, a word to the night students. There are a great many of you here without money. You are going to find the road a hard, hard one. If you are able to go in day school, I would advise you to do so. Your progress in your studies will be greater. But if you are so circumstanced as to be compelled to be in the night school, do not be ashamed to say to the world:

"I have no money, but I am going to get an education, and in order to do so, I am not ashamed to work all day and study two hours at night." Have that spirit, and in the years to come you will find that your sacrifice here will be one of the proudest things of your career. Do not be ashamed to let the world know that you will use your hands in hard, honest toil. You have got to use your hands. Every man and woman, no matter how poor or rich, finds it necessary, at sometime in their lives, to use their hands.

You have, perhaps, read how at one time during the war, General Grant came upon a troop of soldiers who were trying to move a heavy wagon out of a bog. He noticed that three or four of them were tugging away at the wheels, and that another soldier, wearing one or two little stripes, General Grant rode up and politely suggested to the man with the stripes that he lead a team. "Why," said he, "I get down there and help! Not much. I'm a corporal, I am." [Laughter.] Without another word General Grant, the commander of the great Union Army, pulled off his coat and helped move the wagon. He had none of the idea of the degrading qualities of labor that many of us have. If you have any such idea, get rid of it at once.

Do not be afraid to begin at the bottom. Don't feel that any line of work is beneath you. Many want to succeed in their class work and industrial work, but are afraid to begin at the bottom. I remember a case which illustrates what I mean. I met a young man this summer who had just graduated in electrical engineering. His father owns a very fine electric plant. This young man made up his mind that electrical engineering would be his calling. How did he begin? He did not dress up and begin bossing the employees; he went to his father and told him that he was going to learn that business. In order to learn it, he said, "I want to begin at the bottom."

And so he went into the engine room and fired the boilers. From the engine room he goes another step higher, and on through the various departments, until every phase of the work is mastered. Finally, this young man is going to own this electric plant with his father, and will soon be at the top. Don't be afraid to sacrifice for a while. The world will soon find out whether you are worthy of promotion, and if you are, you will not remain at the bottom long.

And you have got to be brave in the matter of your associates. Do not be content while in school to associate your leisure day by day with any persons who cannot make you better in your conversation, stronger in your thoughts and better in your actions. In other words, do not associate yourselves with any person who cannot or who does not help you from day to day.

I want you to be brave in all these matters I have mentioned. My last word is simply this—be all you seem to be, and try to be more than you seem to be, and you do this the world will not condemn you, but will be pleased with your living.

HE'S IN A HELLO' A FIX!

Fellow on the Left—Geeshophat! Didn't I tell you to Register?
Fellow on the Right—Yes, but, hang it, the "Advance Agent of Prosperity" left so many orders at our shop that I had no time to attend to it.
Fellow on the Left—Well, if you don't go to Bill Cochran's office and Register to-day the Groceries and Free-traders may get into power again, and then you'll have time to burn.
Fellow on the Right—That's so; and blow my teeth out if I don't do it right away p. d. q. I don't want no more Free-trade in mine.

AND DON'T YOU FORGET TO REMEMBER IT!

Uncle Charley Decker, probably the oldest soldier of the late War, is dead at Valparaiso, Ind. He was 96 years old, born in Massachusetts in 1798. During the War, at the time being 68 years and 19 days old, he enlisted in Company I, Twenty-ninth Indiana Infantry, serving not quite one year, when he was discharged for disability. His first Presidential vote was cast for James Monroe.

Those who believe chronic diarrhea to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Gisham of Gears Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhea ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines to it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhea. It is pleasant to take and never fails to effect a cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by J. James Wood, Druggist.
